

Miss Basinger's First Grade Newsletter January 19, 2017

This is what we studied:

- The word of the week: forgiveness— to excuse, to pardon
- The students are continuing their research of their choice of black bear, brown (grizzly) bear, or panda bear.
- We started our Project Lead the Way over Animal Adaptations. We learned about different ways animals adapt to their environment: camouflage, protection, food and locomotion.
- We have been finishing up our MAP tests this week as well.
- We are working on using open number lines and finding missing numbers in a number line.
- We are continuing working on finding missing addends, solving and creating story problems.

Report cards will be coming home in a couple of weeks.
