This week we studied:

- The life principle integrity. (literature and fables: The Travelers and the Purse, Hey, Little Ant, Anansi the Spider)
- Sorting/collecting nickels and pennies.
- We read The Peace Book by Todd Parr and learned the song "Free to Be... You and Me"
- Journal writing.
- How to "turn and talk" with a partner and share ideas.
- Skip counting by 2s.
- Graphing data (Popsicles- skip counting the sticks)
- Literacy stations- word work (beginning sounds review), poem writing practice, CVC review, word families while reading with a partner, sight word work, and silly sentence writing.
- Tomorrow we start our Light and Sound (Project Lead the Way)

Light and Sound

TIP OF THE WEEK

Find examples of fiction and non-fiction, in books, magazines, even television shows. Talk about which shows they watch are fiction and find an informational (non-fiction) show to watch together. Have your child write and draw about something they learned and they can share it with the class!

Skip counting: Help your child with counting by 2s by asking him/her to find things that come in pairs. You can line up objects and help them practice counting as well. 😊 😊 😊
